FORTY YEARS AGO.

How wondrous are the changes, Jim,
Since forty years ago,
When girls wore woolen dresses, Jim,
And boys wore pants of tow!
When shoes were made of calfskin,
And socks of homespun wool,
And children did a half day's work,
Before the hour of school.

The girls took music lessons, Jim,
Upon the spinning wheel,
And practiced late and early, Jim,
On the spindle and the reel;
The boys would ride bare-back to mill,
A dozen miles or so,
And hurry off before 'twas day,
Some forty years ago,

The people rode to meeting, Jim,
In sleds instead of sleighs,
And wagons rode as easy, Jim,
As buggies now-a-days.
And oxen answered well for teams,
Though now they'd be too slow,
For people lived not half so fast
Some forty years ago.

Oh, well do I remember, Jim,
That Wilson's patent stove
That father bought and paid for, Jim,
In cloth our girls had wove,
And how the neighbors wondered, Jim,
When we got the thing to go;
They said 'twould burst and kill us all—
Some forty years ago.

Yes, everything is different, Jim,
From what it used to was,
For men are always tampering, Jim,
With God's great natural laws.
But what on earth we're coming to—
Does anybody know?
For everything has changed so much,
Since forty years ago.

Sunday Afternoon.

After Sunday dinner, then what? "Well, it all "depends." A person whose brain is wearied with intellectual work during the week, or whose nervous system is exposed to the strain of business of professional life, ought to sleep, within an hour or two after his Sunday dinner, if he can. It is surprising how much like a seven-day clock the brain will work, if the habit of a "Sunday nap" be once formed. Nature will take advantage of it as regularly and gratefully as the nightly sleep and does her best to make up lost time. People, on the other hand whose week of toil is chiefly physical, may well give their minds activity while their body is resting. Two sermons and three or four hours of solid reading are a real rest to some on Sunday, while to others such a course amounts to positive Sabbath-breaking. Sunday is a day of rest—not of work, religious or otherwise. It is a day of repose—not for exhaustion. But what the dogmatists on one side and the illiberal liberals on the other are apt to overlook, is the fact that all men do not rest alike, and what will help to save one may aid in killing another.

After the Sunday dinner, then, one should seek rest, innocent recreation, helpful happiness. Sleep, or read, or go and help instruct and interest a mission-school, or visit the sick and the suffering, according to your needs and your gifts. We Americans haven't yet fully learned the art of domestic enjoyment, any more than the law of service to others. More men ought to relieve their wives of the sole care of the children on Sundays, by taking them out to walk or to ride and inviting the mother to go as company, or leave her at home to enjoy unmolested a much-needed season of quiet. In suitable weather a portion of the day may be profitably spent out-of-doors. There is nothing in the example or teachings of Jesus—nothing in the nature of his religion, of God's requirements, or of man's needs—which declares that the Sabbath can only be kept holy in-doors. It is to be honored and hallowed, but its highest observance is a ministration to man's highest needs. We hope and believe that the day will never come when Sunday will be secularized or turned into a gay holiday in America, as it is in Europe; but the progress made toward a rational Christian enjoyment of the day, within the past fifty years, shows that the superiority of man to the institution, as proclaimed by the Savior, is coming to be apprehended.—Golden Rule.

It seems as if the old folks never would learn to understand a boy. They can't seem to comprehend why he should be so unanimous in regard to getting up at four o'clock in the morning to take part in a fishing excursion, while it requires the expenditure of three tons of energy to arouse him at seven o'clock when there is a cord of wood to pile up. Even politicians and other scientists can't explain this.

An unidentified but level headed exchange says if your local paper happens to tread on your toes a little in performing its mission, don't get your back up and abuse its editor, but stop and take a good breath and think back for a season and see if you can't remember some of the favors and kindness it has shown you in the past. Then reflect that it may not be long before you may want favors again.

When a New Jersey man gets hard up, he gets an old sword somewhere, and takes it over to New York and tells some rich New Yorker that it is a weapon that La Fayette left at his grandfather's house during the Revolution, and the rich New Yorker buys the interesting relic. They don't know much about hard times in New Jersey.

When a Colorado man enters the office of a local paper and stands his rifle up in the corner while he reads the editor his poem, the editor doesn't tell him they never use poetry, but promises the piece shall go in, and the poet tightens his pistol belt and says he will call around next day to get a copy of the paper.

IN EXTREMIS.

I love to feel your hand, beloved,
I love to feel your hand:
Then hold me fast until we part
Then hold me fast until we part
Upon the gloomy strand,
And I upon the silent sea
Go forth alone from love and thee!

I love to see your smile, which says
What else you dare not say:
It gilds for me the gloomy shore,
It seems to light my way.
Brave love, keep back your tears awhile
That parting I may see you smile!

O let me hear your voice, beloved—
Your face I see no more!
That tender voice still sounds above
The breakers of the shore;
And for a space may follow me
Out, out, upon the silent sea!

One kiss upon my lips, sad lips
That cannot kiss thee back,
Let [illegible] aim his [illegible]
Bear witness on the rack!
One kiss, the longest and the last,
Resuming all the sacred past!

O love that seems to rise as rise
The waters of that sea,
To rise and overflow, and float
My soul, O God, to Thee!
Thy soul, thy smile, thy kiss thy breath,
Beloved, have rapt my soul from death!

London in Winter.

Some one has said that in order to get a very good idea of what London is like at this season of the year you have only to poke your head up a foul chimney and keep it there a few minutes. There is not so very much exaggeration in that. If you go out for a walk you come back with hands and face grimed with soot, with collar and wrist-bands as black as if they had been worn a month in a coal mine, and with your lungs full of a sulphurous-flavored smoke. In the house everything is half spoiled. Picture frames get black, and a heavy layer of dust and soot deposits itself on all the books. A brass chandelier turns dark and corrodes in a week. Silver begins to look like dirty bronze. To look clean and feel comfortable are simply impossible. A "boiled shirt" is as black as a chimney-sweeper's rag after less than two hours' wear. For days together it has been as much as one could do to find one's way about the streets, and on Christmas eve the oldest Londoner could not perform the feat. There is a much more horrible darkness than that of midnight, and it is that of midday in London during a fog. Literally it is a darkness that can be felt—and smelt too, and a very nasty smell it is. All the newspapers have been writing leading articles on the subject this week, but I cannot see that it has done the least bit of good. The fog seems to have no respect for the press. "What is to become of us?" ask the editors. The only thing to do, if one can manage it, is to rise up and shake the dust—or, rather, the soot of this monstrously overgrown and mephitic city off the soles of one's feet. So many people cannot live together in any place with health and comfort. Some of us must go. A good many "go" much against their will, brought up with a sharp turn by bronchitis or some form of lung disease. The rest of England, and half of Europe, is strewn with the victims of London. Yet there are people so infatuated as to call it a healthy city, and they pretend the mortality returns prove it, although it is well known that thousands who received their death-wounds in London go abroad to die. The last is in a great battle are to be reckoned only by the dead who are picked up on the field.

Dr. Brunton in the Contemporary Review stated that the late Lord Derby, when translating Homer, was accustomed to eat brandied cherries. One man will eat figs while composing a leading article, another will suck chocolate cremes; another will smoke cigarettes; and others sip brandy and water. By these means they stimulate the lingual and buccal branches of the fifth nerve, and thus reflexly excite their brains.

PLEASURE OF READING.—Of all the amusements that can possibly be imagioned for a working man, after daily toils or in the intervals, there is nothing like reading a newspaper or a book. It calls for no bodily exertion, of which already he has had enough, perhaps too much. It relieves his home of dullness and sadness. Nay, it accompanies him to his next day's work, and gives him something to think of besides the mere mechanical drudgery of his every day occupation: something he can enjoy while absent, and look forward to with pleasure. If I were to pray for a taste which would stand by me under every variety of circumstances, and be a source of enjoyment and cheerfulness to me through life, and a shield against all its ills, however things might go amiss and the world frown upon me, it would be a taste for reading.

Prince Alphonso, of Bavaria, first cousin to the King, has just fulfilled a duty by ancient custom obligatory upon every Prince of the reigning House—the performance of at least one day's active service as a private soldier. He celebrated the attainment of his majority by spending his birthday in standing sentry in front of the principal guard house of the capital. Being an uncommonly good-looking youth, he was gazed at with admiration and approval during his spell on guard by great numbers of Munich dames and damsels, who gave utterance to their feelings by plaudits when he was relieved from his post in the usual manner and marched off to barracks, rifle on shoulder, with the relief party.

IN THE SERVICE.

An interesting statement is made concerning the varied ways in which the men and boys employed by the New York District Telegraph system make themselves useful to the community at large. The boys are in a great demand during the Summer holidays, and answer summons at all hours from four thousand, six hundred and eighty-two boxes, which are in dwelling houses, and on the corners of blocks, in all parts of the city. In some blocks in the upper part of the city, nearly every house has an alarm box by which a messenger may be summoned for any purpose in less than five minutes. The young men connected with the service are employed on some peculiar errands. Of late there has been a demand for escorts to places of amusement, and from one house to another. In the former case the address taken and word is telegraphed to the central office for an escort. The one who answers the summons is given the address and a letter of introduction, and accompanies the applicant to whatever theater she desires. The escort pays for car fares and tickets from money that his newly made friend has given him. He attends her back to the hotel and receives two dollars for his services. This custom of employing escorts has become a regular practice and appears to be growing in favor. As a rule, the applicants are married women, widows and spinsters of mature age. Many of the women who apply for these attendants are strangers to the city, ignorant of the situation of the theaters. Men, however, as well as women, employ escorts for various purposes. Many, in fact most of the men, too, who require the services of the messengers are strangers, who wish for guides to show them the "sights." With a good guide by his side, the country gentleman is safe from sharpers. Cases are not unknown where a messenger has been summoned and sent in charge of a missing husband, who was supposed to be at one of his favorite haunts. It is not an uncommon thing for a messenger to be sent home with an intoxicated person. In one instance of the kind recently, a man was labelled and sent home, and when the messenger gave him up he obtained a receipt for "one drunken man." Messenger-boys and men are also extensively employed as detectives for various purposes, and in such cases their knowledge of city life does them good service.

Spanish Students.

Only one of their old customs still survives. When carnival approaches, the medical students dust their banjoes, guitars and violins. The nights are beautiful at that season, the stars shed their pale light all over Madrid. The students, in marching order, pass nightly through the calm streets, playing the soft gay sensuous melodies inherited from dreamy Arabs. There is a great charm in these fantastic marches. They are true revivals of the customs of the most original century of the middle ages. These romantic amusements are a rehearsal of the airs which the students will play during the carnival. In the daytime they sing, dance, court the young ladies, pursue the romantic maids, and lay in a stock of cutors, a Spanish copper piece. During the night they gaily spend all the money they collect in the daytime. All pockets are opened to them. The windows are filled with handsome women; shining pieces of money are thrown down; merry and witty thanks go up from the students. A restless vanguard traverses the streets in all directions, stops the passers by, hold out the hat with one hand and shakes the noisy tambourine with the other. The begging part of the custom does not take away any of its charm and poverty. "La Jota de Aragon" and another jota from "El Molinet de Subiza" are always the most applauded. The harmonious songs of Malaga's daughters are mingled with the jotas. The hymn of "Riego," the Spanish national hymn of liberty, moves and maddens the people.

The students in carnival time and the guitarists are two of the special attractions of Spain. There are many virtuosi of the guitar. Mas, Tarrega and Arcos are most famous. When Tarrega plays Chopin's "Funeral March" all eyes are full of tears. When Arnos gives his bold conceptions, the heart is moved and the ear charmed. Mas is famous, and recalls in his vehement manner the Hungarian gypsy Bihary, that courtier of the Empress Maria Theresa. Guitar concerts are often given in Madrid, and the King Alfonso is extremely fond of this kind of music.—The Hour.

The King of Denmark is truly a paternal monarch. Finding that during the present severe weather the Royal Foot Guards were suffering greatly from colds in the head and coughs, the good old gentleman has provided thick goloshes, or overshoes, very nicely lined with fur, in which the sentries stalk about in luxurious comfort.

London Truth has an articles on fashions for little dogs. The only exception we take is to the style of walking-dress for small bull-pups. Instead of a scarlet velvet poke bonnet and close-fitting ulster, we think a blue felt cornet-shaped hat and fur-lined circular would be much more becoming and appropriate.

A contribution is now being made for the purpose of completing the road between Bakersfield and San Luis Obispo.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, MARCH 13, 1880.

SAN FRANCISCO AGENCY.—I. P. Fisher, 21 Merchants' Exchange, is our Agent, and is authorized to contract for advertising, receive subscriptions and make collections on our account.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Explosion at a flax mill near Indianapolis, killed ten men.

Sherman's friends figure his nomination on the second ballot.

Tilden is ciphering himself in a nomination by the Democratic Convention.

The Trade and Labor League of St. Louis are trying to inaugurate a grand "strike" on the 1st of April.

The overland and a freight train collided on Red Desert near Rawlins, Wyoming Territory, from which an engineer will probably die.

The Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco want Congress to send a vessel to the Arctic Ocean, to assist two whalers.

Kearney's case came up in the San Francisco Police Court yesterday.

The works of the Vancouver Coal Company were destroyed by fire at Nanoimo, W. T., yesterday.

GOING EAST.

It looks as though California was to have a Chinese exodus, the Celestials having evidently come to the conclusion that they would be more welcome in the Eastern States than they are in this, California. A large number of Chinamen are now wending their way overland from California and our Eastern friends, who have held up their hands in holy horor at Californians for wishing to rid ourselves of the celestial plague, are now begining to realize that perhaps they were too sympathetic and that they, as a class, are not so desirable an acquisition as they had schooled themselves to believe they would be. In New York, where the papers were profuse in their abuse of Californians for wishing to have the Burlingame treaty nullified, the people are beginning to open their eyes, and can already see that their presence forebodes no good to that city and her people. In St. Louis an anti-Chinese meeting is to be held at an early day. It is to be hoped for the benefit of our own people of the Pacific Coast that nothing will occur to stop the exodus of Chinese to the East. The feeling against them as exhibited in San Francisco, has in a great measure stopped the influx of the undesirable class into California from their Celestial homes, and now if we can show them that their interests are really in the Eastern States, we may rid ourselves of a great majority of the Chinamen now here.

Our Eastern dispatches yesterday informed us that Mrs. Sargent—we presume Mrs. Senator Sargent—was intending to lecture throughout the Eastern States, and show the people of that favored section of our Union that they should welcome the Celestial lords with open arms. The proceeds of her lectures are to be used in the payment of the passage of the undesirable element, as special rates can be secured for this object. It is her intention to interest the manufactures of New York and other Eastern cities in her scheme to introduce skilled Chinese labor into their works. We can only wish her God speed in the good work of ridding California of the most undesirable element a people can be cursed with.

LET THEM GO.—A St. Louis dispatch says:

Hon. Henry F. Scarrett, a planter of Pass Christian, Miss., is here, and says that in view of the negro exodus from the south and a disturbed condition of things in California, planters in his section of the county have canvassed the question to some extent of attempting to obtain Chinese laborers. Correspondence has already been had with one Chinese Company, and probably some Chinamen will be sent to work in southern Mississippi in a few weeks.

A BIG BLOW.—Grant Israel, who was on the delayed train yesterday, says he never in all his life heard such a gale of wind as prevailed night before last at Emigrant Gap. There was constant danger of the train being blown from the track, and when they arrived at the high trestle work bridge at the place named they stopped and remained there nearly all night. They dare not venture to run out upon the bridge in such a gale.—Virginia Enterprise.

The Governor has appointed N. D. Rideout, of Marysville, vice John Boggs, of Colusa, term expired, and Dr. Benjamin Shurtleff, of Shasta, vice Van Beaver, term expired, Trustees of the Napa Insane Asylum.

Leadville has had a leap year ball which was conducted in proper style. The girls had three knife fights, and then a general shooting affray, while the men huddled together in a corner and yelled.

The engineers on the V. and T. road have been notified by the Mechanics Union to join that organization, or cease running trains in Storey county by the 1st of April.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company's steamer China sailed from San Francisco on Tuesday last, with 200 steerage and 126 cabin passengers.

Charles M. Lawarence who attempted to commit suicide in Virginia City on Monday by shooting himself in the mouth, died on Tuesday morning.

For want of funds the Chico schools have been closed for 1880. It is claimed to result from the new Constitution shortening the school year.

Telegraphic.

SAN FRANCISCO.

KEARNEY'S CASE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Denis Kearney was brought before the Police Court this morning. On appearing he stated that he was ready and desired neither jury nor counsel, and had no witnesses. The policeman, who is the complaining witness in the case, being temporarily absent looking for certain witnesses, the case was continued, on motion of the Prosecuting Attorney, until to-morrow.

THE WALKING CRAZE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The interest in the walking match is increasing as the end approaches and there is great excitement in the eastern sporting circles. There seems to be no doubt that the match is thoroughly on the square, and both contestants are doing their best. At 7 o'clock this evening O'Leary had scored four hundred and twenty miles; Weston 411 miles, the latter having rested a couple of hours during the latter part of the afternoon. Betting still remains about even, Weston's friends expecting him to pull up in the remaining 28 hours.

THE MISSING WHALERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting today adopted a memorial to Horace Davis, requesting the California Congressional delegation to use its influence to obtain a small appropriation to be expended in chartering a steamer to go to the relief of whaling vessels Vigilant and Mount Waleston, caught in the ice in the Artic Ocean, near Heralds Island. The merchants propose in case the vessel is furnished, to provide everything in the way of stores, etc.

SACRAMENTO, March 12.—The Assembly concurred in all of the Senate amendments to the revenue and taxation bill.

CHILD DROWNED.

PORTLAND, O. March, 12.—A little daughter of Willis Vidito, of Alsea Valley, Benton county, was thrown from a wagon on the 10th instant into Alsea river and drowned.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Herald's Washington correspondent, who knows all about it, says Tilden has made up his mind that a large part of the South will be equally hostile to him or his candidate, and it is admitted that if he does not run himself he means to name the man. He has therefore made up his mind to do without the "Solid South," and holds that the Democrats can carry northern States enough to make up the deficiency. It is remarked by Tilden men that to carry California, Oregon, Ohio and Wisconsin, would give them forty-one in exchange for Southern States that may be surrendered. They count of course, on New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, and Indiana, being Democratic as before.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Sam Gee, a Celestial of Mott street, was convicted in the Court of General Sessions, of assault and battery in firing a pistol at Mary Creighton on the 16th of February. He was arraigned in Court to-day for sentence, and his counsel made a strong appeal for mercy on behalf of his client, asking that he be merely fined. Judge Cowan said, "I cannot grant your request; there are hundreds and thousands of this prisoners countrymen coming here, I understand, and it will not do for me to allow him to go abroad among them and convey the impression that they can carry pistols and use them with impunity on the slighest pretext. I want this case to be a warning to them, and I will therefore sentence you, Sam Gee, to the penitentiary for six months.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The scarcity of fractional silver is caused by its presentation for redemption under the recent law There are $21,000,000 of such coin in the Treasuay, which will be exchanged at all the Sub. Treasuries for U. S. notes when an appropriation is made for this purpose by Congress.

CHICAGO, March 12.—The Tribune's Columbus special claims that in deciding upon April 28th as the date for holding the Republican State Convention, the Committee in Ohio disregarded the interests and wishes of Sherman, in favor of Blaine. That Sherman desired an early date fixed for some time this month, while Blaine's friends were unanimous for a late date and secured it. Blaine's strength in the State was a surprise. The Tribune's St. Louis special says the anti-Grant meeting last night drew the greatest audience ever gathered in Mercantile Library Hall.

General John B. Henderson, spoke an hour and a half, declaring his opposition on patriotic grounds, to perpetuating any administration. Major Lucien Eaton, then, introduced the following:

RESOLVED; That it is the sense of this meeting, that the nomination of a Presidential candidate for a third term, is unwise, inexpedient, and subversive of the traditions of the Government, and likely to endanger the success of the Republican party. Cheer followed cheer as this was seconded, and adopted by acclamation.

The following letter, was received by M. L. Scadder of this city, explains itself.

WASHINGTON, March 10.

MY DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the seventh inst. in which you express your strong dissent to my retiring from the Presidential race, is received. I never for a moment have contemplated such a course, and the rumor you speak of, was no doubt, promptly denied. The first public mention of my candidacy, was in the inference drawn from my letter to Hon. Mr. Haskin of New York, in which I stated what I would seek to do, in case of my nomination and election. Since that time I have been considered by the public as a candidate, and have so regarded myself, with the purpose neither to press any one to support me, nor to decline such friendly aid as is offered me. This position I intend to occupy to the end. I do not think it necessary for me to belittle or arraign General Grant, Senator Blaine or any one else nor will I use my official position to promote my candidacy.

Very Truly Your's
JOHN SHERMAN.

CHICAGO, March 12th.—The Trade and Labor League yesterday received a communication from St. Louis urging their cooperation in a Trade Union strike to be inaugurated April 1st. and to be composed of all the organizations in the west. The question of Chinese immigration was discussed and the report of the Executive Committee read, setting forth the moral and industrial disadvantages arising from the presence of the Chinese here, and recommending that a meeting be held here on Monday night to take action thereon. Such a meeting will doubtless be held.

CHICAGO, March 12th.—The Inter-Ocean Washington special says: Secretary Sherman has a very sanguine friend here who has just returned from a trip in the west. He states he has been in the large towns in the western States and is convinced that Mr. Sherman will receive at the Chicago Convention, on the first ballot 10 votes from Indiana, 15 from Michigan, 12 from Illinois, 10 from Wisconsin, the solid vote of Minnesota, and from 8 to 12 from Iowa. He is very confident that Sherman will be nominated on the second ballot.

EXPLOSION AND LOSS OF LIFE.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 12.—The bodies of the ten men killed by the explosion in the flax mill of Lehman, Rosenthal & Co., at Frankfort yesterday, were frightfully mutilated, They were thrown from fifty to a hundred yards distant. The head of one was blown entirely away; not a vestige of it could be found.

COLLISION.

RAWLINS, WYOMING T., March 12,—During a heavy snow storm this morning the Overland passenger trains Nos, 3 and 4 collided at Red Desert. The engineer of train No. 4 will probably die from his injuries, No passengers were injured.

FIRE.

NANAIMO, B. C., Mar. 12.—About 5 o'clock this morning flames were seen issuing from the buildings of the Vancouver Coal Company's Machine and Repairing shops. There are three repair and one engine house all large buildings. Tools, ropes and stores were saved, but all the machinery, etc., is a total loss. The loss is estimated from $20,000 to $30,000, with no insurance. It is believed to have been the work of an incendiary.

THE CHINESE EXODUS.—The S. F. Call of Wednesday says that

The exodus of Chinese to the Eastern States still continues. Last night a carload left by the Central Pacific Railroad, and as many more the previous day. If no check is put to the emigration, it is probable that the Eastern philanthropists will be brought face to face with the Mongolian problem at an earlier day than has been anticipated. While this movement is already beginning to create alarm in Chicago and New York, the effect in San Francisco has been somewhat peculiar. Engelbrecht, Fox & Co., at 312 and 314 Front street, manufacturers of Club House cigars, who are large employers of Chinese cheap labor, were surprised on Monday morning last to have a demand made upon them by the boss of the Mongolians in their employ, for a material advance in wages.

TIOGA.

C. H Golding, Supt.

Since last report the entire force has been concentrated on the 800-level in cutting out station, and sinking sump. Expect to complete excavation for station during the coming week. Have also placed guides in the shaft from the 500 to the 800-level, to be in readiness for using car when crosscutting is begun. Are also constructing an iron tank of 500 gallons capacity for hoisting water, to be in readiness for handling successfully a large body, should they encounter it in crosscutting, and making preparation for running the same through the Syndicate Tunnel.

The Boston Transcript says it is the intention of the Atlantic and Pacific management to have a terminus at both San Francisco and San Diego.

BLACKHAWK.

S. B. Ferguson, Supt.

The shaft is down 699 feet, and the bottom is now in harder rock than has ever before been encountered in the sinking of this shaft, and consequently the progress is very slow. The small veins that have been following the shaft still continues with it, and they show a slight improvement. At the 700-level will open another station, and crosscut east and west will be started. The winze on the 320-level is down 85 feet, the rock being hard. The vein continues about 20 inches wide, and is about the same as to quality as at last report. Everything about the mine is working well.

WHY THUSLY?—Why is it that our co-temporaries are fighting the battles of their compositors? It is uncommon for papers to take that side of the question. They are probably realizing that the meek and lowly WEEKLY CHRONICLE was quietly paving the way to undermine them. The News and Standard's list is fearfully dwindling, and the DAILY BODIE CHRONICLE is going "way up." Of course, they will deny it, but the carriers and people know it.

TWO JUDGES.—A petition has been prepared here asking the Legislature to pass a bill for the election or appointment of another Superior Judge for this county, to reside at and hold Court in Bodie. The Legislature may have the right to give us another Judge, but we doubt if it can say he can reside away from the County Seat, where all the records must be kept.

MAIL TO MILL CREEK.—A petition will be forwarded to the Postmaster General in a few days asking for a tri-weekly mail between here and Mill Creek, Homer district. This is destined to be a very important district and it is but right that it should enjoy the best of mail facilities.

NOT SO.—Our evening cotemporary says that the Spaulding mill is running on Noonday ore. A mistake. The Spaulding is not yet crushing, and may not for some little time yet.

A FIXED FACT.—Our cotemporaries might as well subside on the type-setting proposition. Under no circumstance will we employ a male compositor or pay more than 50 cents per 1,000 ems.

Billy Blackmore has made arrangements to put on a line of 3-passenger stages in a few days, and until the government gives a mail contract he will carry the mail regularly.

Under the present law, Sheriffs are not entitled to receive mileage and expenses incurred in the capture of criminals outside their counties, unless the pursuit is successful. Assemblyman Morse has introduced a bill, allowing expenses in the above matter to any Sheriff and his posse, not to exceed ten in number, at the rate of $2 50 per day. Such expenses, when certified by the Board of Supervisors, are to become a charge upon the State Treasury.

Adolph Sutro has purchased a $150,000 house near McAllister street, in San Francisco, where he will reside in future. He is also said to have purchased a handsome country seat on the Hudson river, New York.

The debt of Calaveras county, according to the annual statement of the Board of Supervisors, is $138,888, showing a decrease for the year of $8,340.

The large plate glass in the east door of the Capitol building, 30x12) inches in dimensions, was shattered into fragments on Monday, in consequence of the heavy north wind blowing the door violently to.

SUMMONS.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT OF BODIE Township. County of Mono, State of California.

J. M. CAMPBELL, Plaintiff, vs. S. L. GANOW, Defendant.

The People of the State of California send Greeting to S. L. Ganow, Defendant.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named Plaintiff in the Justice's Court of Bodie Township, County of Mono, State of California, and to answer before the Justice of his office in said Township, the complaint filed therein, within five days, (exclusive of the day of service), after the service on you of this summons—if served within the Township in which this action is brought; or, if served out of said Township, but in said County, within Ten Days; or, within Twenty Days if served elsewhere.

The said action is brought to recover the sum of $148 25-100 of a balance due for blacksmith and repairing done and performed for you in the town of Bodie, County of Mono, State of California, within the last two years past, as will more fully appear by reference to complaint herein on file. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, as above required, said plaintiff will take judgment against you for said sum of $148 25-100 together with costs of suit.

Make legal service and due return hereof. Given under my hand this Seventh day of February, 1880.

THOMAS NEWMAN,
Justice of the Peace of said Township.
